NATIONAL DEVELOPMENT BUREAU

F. C. C. LYNCH, Director

The National Development Bureau is a branch of the Department of the Interior, one of the departments of the Government of Canada. Its function is to supply statistical information regarding the resources of Canada and the problems associated with their development. In pursuance of this object the Bureau issues numerous reports, pamphlets and maps, a list of which, as at this date, follows. It will assist materially if applicants will state their needs as clearly and definitely as possible. Often there is important unpublished data on file which can be furnished only when the wants of the enquirer are fully known. Replies should be addressed to the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada.

FOREWORD

The National Development Bureau is a branch of the Department of the Interior, one of the departments of the Government of Canada. Its function is to supply authentic information regarding the resources of Canada and the problems associated with their development. In pursuance of this object the Service issues numerous reports, pamphlets and maps, a list of which, as at this date, follows.

It will assist materially if applicants will state their needs as clearly and definitely as possible. Often there is important unpublished data on file which can be furnished only when the wants of the enquirer are fully known.

Enquiries should be addressed to the National Development Bureau, Department of the Interior, Ottawa, Canada.

PHOTOGRAPHS AND LANTERN SLIDES

The Bureau maintains comprehensive photograph and lantern slide libraries containing views of every part of Canada and every phase of Canadian activity.

Photographs are supplied, without charge, to writers, publishers and others desiring Canadian pictures for reproduction or display, for recognized developmental publicity purposes.

Lantern slides are loaned, without charge, except transportation costs, to lecturers, schools, colleges and responsible organizations. In special cases slides may be retained on indefinite loan.

A series of lantern slide lectures on subjects related to the resources and development of Canada are also loaned without charge. Lecture notes are available in English and French. A catalogue of lantern slide lectures will be furnished on request.

UNPUBLISHED INFORMATION

Supplementing the published material the Bureau has a vast store of information on file regarding Canadian raw materials, industrial development, geography and tourist travel, which is available to enquirers.

Mimeographed reports embodying the result of raw material utilization studies, development surveys, economic studies of special districts, technical, and economic research investigations, and special tourist information are prepared from time to time, also blue print maps showing the important features of various industries such as tanning, furniture, textile, canning, preserving and drying, and pulp and paper. So long as the supply lasts these reports and maps are available to those specially interested and when exhausted the loan of the library copy can usually be obtained. Furthermore, there are on file numerous special memoranda covering a wide variety of subjects and these can be brought up to date and forwarded on very short notice.

MAPS FOR REPRODUCTION

Geographic and economic maps depicting the physical features of the country, its natural and recreational resources, industrial development, etc., prepared for reproduction in one printing, are available free to authors, publishers, the press and others desiring this material to illustrate text dealing with economic development and geographic problems.

These subjects are obtainable in photographic form, the prints varying in size up to 11 x 14 inches.
